Even when she has a big secret? It's up to you to find out.

1. Black-tailed Deer Adventure

Hi. This is my first fanfiction. I do NOT own Wild Kratts. I only own my OC, Emma.

* * *

>"We're here!" announced Koki.

Everyone in the Tortuga looked out the window to see the Redwood Forest of Redwood National Park.

"Awesome!" exclaimed Martin.

The Tortuga landed in an open area near the forest. Chris and Martin were the first ones to get off.

"Ready for another creature adventure Martin?" _asked_ Chris.

"You bet I am!" replied Martin.

"What animal are you looking for?" asked Koki.

"We're going to look for a black-tailed deer," replied Chris.

"Does it have a black tail?" asked Jimmy.

"I'm pretty sure it does, Jimmy," replied Martin.

"Alright then, we're off," said Chris.

"If you find one, send me information so I can make black-tailed deer creature power discs," said Aviva. "Oh! I almost forgot. The first aid kit is empty. Let's hope you don't encounter an injured animal."

"Okay!"

The Kratt brothers then ran into the forest.

30 minutes later

"Martin, we've been walking for thirty minutes and we haven't found a black-tailed deer yet," said Chris.

"I know. We should've seen one by-"

Martin was cut off when both brothers heard something near some bushes. Then suddenly, a deer with a black tail appeared.

"-now," finished Martin.

"We found one!" exclaimed Chris as he contacted the Tortuga.

"Awesome!" smiled Aviva. "I'll make the discs."

Martin then gasped. "Chris!"

"Yeah?"

"Look!"

"Huh?" Chris turned to look at what Martin was pointing at and his eyes went wide.

A long streak of red was seen on the side of the deer and continued its way down until droplets fell, creating a small pool of blood on the forest floor.

"It's hurt!" exclaimed Martin.

"Aviva, we need the first-aid kit, pronto!" said Chris.

"Guys, I told you the first-aid kit is empty."

"Oh, right."

Suddenly Martin cried, "Wait! Don't go!"

"Martin, I'm not going anywhere," said Aviva.

"Not you! The deer! It's going away!"

"Oh no!" cried Chris, "Later Aviva!"

"Bye!"

"Come on we got to go after it!" said Martin, "We can't leave it out of our sight!"

Martin and Chris ran after the deer. Eventually, the two got tired and stopped to rest.

"Chris! We need to keep going or we might lose the deer!" said Martin.

"Don't worry Martin. The deer is probably tired too, due to the... blood it lost." Chris cringed when he said this. "Soon it will stop to rest and we will catch up to it."

"Well, we need a sleep serum so the deer doesn't continue to lose its blood while it runs," said Martin.

"Good idea. I'll contact Aviva," said Chris.

After contacting the crew and getting the sleep serum from Aviva, both brothers continued to look for the injured deer. They soon found the deer eating berries from a bush.

"Okay Chris, you have to run quietly towards the deer in order to inject the serum," instructed Martin, "Then we'll figure out how to get it better."

"Okay," replied Chris. He then started to run towards the deer. He was only a few feet away when suddenly he ran into something. Or more like someone.

"Ow!"

Chris and the other human being fell, startling the deer and causing it to run away, again. the sleeping serum got out of Chris' hand and fell on a rock, causing it to break and having the liquid leak out.

Chris looked at what he ran into and saw it was a girl. She had black hair that was put into a side braid and had brown eyes. Her skin looks like Aviva's skin color. She wore an aqua-blue shirt, jeans and black sneakers.

Chris ran over to her and asked, "Are you okay?"

The girl looked up at him and replied, "Yeah, I'm fine." Then she asked, "You?"

"I'm okay."

"Chris!"

Both turned to see Martin running towards them.

"Bro! What happened? I saw you running and then you-"

When Martin saw the girl he said, "Oh."

"I'm okay Martin," replied Chris.

"I'm assuming you two are brothers," said the girl.

"Yeah! We're the Kratt brothers. My name is Martin," said Martin smiling.

"And I'm Chris. What's your name?" asked Chris who was also smiling.

The girl smiled at both brothers and replied, "My name is Emma."

2. Black-tailed Deer Adventure Continued

Second chapter! Sorry for the long wait. Caviva fluff will be in story soon.

* * *

>"Emma. That's a nice name." said Martin.

"Thanks." Emma stood up and turned to Chris. "I'm sorry I ran into you. I was so focused on getting to the injured deer that I didn't see where I was going."

"That's okay. Its- oh no!"

"What?" asked Martin.

"The deer it ran off! Again!" cried Chris. He then looked around to find glass and liquid on top of a rock. "And the serum has leaked out!"

"What are we going to do now?" groaned Martin.

"Let me guess. You guys were planning to inject a sleep serum into the deer so you can find a way to heal it," said Emma.

Both brothers looked at her with surprise.

"How did you know?" asked Chris.

"I was going to do the same thing," replied Emma and pointed at something on the ground.

The Kratt brothers looked at the direction her finger was pointing and saw a small tube with liquid in it. Emma walked over and picked it up.

"It got out of my hand when I got knocked over. I'm glad it landed on this patch of clover."

"Hey," said Martin, "How about you join us to go after the deer?"

"That's actually not a bad idea," said Emma, "Okay. I'll go with you guys."

Suddenly Chris' creature pod beeped. "It's Aviva," announced Chris.

Aviva appeared on the screen and said, "Okay! The discs are done. I'll have-" Then she noticed Emma. "Who's that?"

"Aviva, this is Emma, a friend who's going to help us with the injured deer. Emma, this Aviva, one of our crew members and our inventor." said Chris.

"Nice to meet you," said the girls in unison. They then laughed.

"Okay then, the discs will be sent to you. Let me know if you need anything else. Aviva out." The screen went black.

Two discs then appeared above Emma who caught them. She then gave the discs to Martin and Chris.

"We are now ready to go!" said Martin.

"Wait! I forgot something!" said Emma. She ran to a nearby tree and grabbed something behind it. It was a backpack. "I take this wherever I go. Lucky for us, I brought a first-aid kit."

"You are so prepared!" said Chris, "Everyone ready?" Emma and Martin nodded.

"To the creature rescue!" said the Kratt brothers.

* * *

>"Martin. Chris. You should probably turn off your cellphones," said Emma.

Chris, Emma, and Martin found the deer by a stream, drinking water. The trio was hiding behind a bush.

"Creature pods," corrected Chris.

"Yeah, those. You guys should turn them off."

"Why?" questioned Martin.

"Because deer can get spooked easily. The slightest sound can scare them and they run off. I had my cellphone on when I found this deer and when the phone rang, it ran away."

"She does have a point Martin," said Chris.

"Okay." After all electronics were turned off, a plan was forming within the trio.

"Chris, you will do the same thing you were about to do earlier. Run quietly and inject. I'll be behind the tree to activate my suit and distract the deer. Emma you'll stay here. We'll have you come over after its asleep," instructed Martin.

"Oh thank goodness," muttered Emma.

Both brothers didn't hear her because they were already gone. Emma looked over the bush to see Martin pressing a button on the center of his suit. He was then engulfed in a blue light and was now a deer. A blue one to be exact. Emma stared at Martin in surprise. Martin saw Emma's surprised look and smiled at her. He then walked towards the deer and started to talk to it. Emma turned to see Chris running quietly towards the deer and Martin. In an instant, Chris injected the serum, which caught the deer by surprise. But it didn't run because its eyelids were slowly closing. Chris caught the deer when it started to lean to the left and gently laid it down.

"Okay Emma. He's all yours." said Chris.

"He?" asked Emma as she walked over to the deer.

"Yeah it's a he," said Martin, who had just deactivated, "You can tell by the antlers that are growing on the top of his head. You can't really see them because of the fur."

"Oh." said Emma. She got the first-aid kit out of her backpack and opened it. She got out some gloves and bandages. She put on the gloves and started cleaning the wound. With a little help from the Kratt brothers, the deer's wound was cleaned and bandaged.

"All done," said Emma as she took off her gloves.

"We should probably take this deer to the Tortuga. That way he can heal faster," said Martin.

"I agree," said Chris. He then turned to Emma. "You should come with us. That way we can introduce you to the rest of the crew."

"Okay," replied Emma.

"The Tortuga isn't that far," announced Martin, who was pointing at something. "Look."

Emma and Chris looked at the direction Martin was pointing. Sure enough they saw a huge turtle a few feet away from them.

Emma laughed. "No wonder you guys call it that. It's huge."

"Okay, let's carry this deer together," said Martin

"We'll lift him up on the count to three," instructed Chris. "One, two, three!"

The trio lifted the deer up and walked towards the Tortuga.

3. Introductions

Caviva fluff! There will be more soon. R&R.

* * *

>Aviva was pacing around the main room of the Tortuga. She hadn't heard from the Kratt brothers for about an hour and she was getting worried. Really worried. Especially on one particular person. Chris. Aviva has a crush on him. She is still afraid that he might reject her if she told him. Unbeknownst to Aviva, Chris had a crush on her. But he doesn't have the courage to tell her and he doesn't know she likes him.

Aviva sighed. She sat down in a chair and continued to think about Chris. She was so deep in thought that she didn't see or hear Martin, Chris, and Emma walking in, and then placing the deer a table.

"Aviva?" Aviva nearly jumped out of the chair at the sound of Chris' voice. She then ran towards him and gave him a big hug, surprising Chris. Realizing what she was doing, she quickly stepped back, her cheeks turning pink.

"Where have you been?" asked Aviva, hoping Chris would forget what she just did. "You guys got me worried sick!"

"Calm down Aviva. We would have contacted you if we weren't carrying a deer," replied Chris, who was still couldn't believe he got a hug from her.

"Yeah. This guy was heavy!" said Martin who was standing next to the deer.

Aviva looked at the deer on the table. It was asleep and had bandages on its body. She looked at Emma. "I suppose you bandaged the deer."

Emma nodded. She was about to say something when Jimmy and Koki walked into the room.

"Who's that?" they asked when they saw Emma.

Emma turned to Martin and Chris. "Looks like we have to make some introductions," she said. She looked at everyone else. "Hello, I'm Emma."

"Nice to meet you Emma. I'm Koki," said Koki.

"And I'm Jimmy.," said Jimmy.

Emma smiled at both of them. "What do you guys do? I know Martin and Chris like to find animals and Aviva is an inventor."

"Communications," replied Koki.

"I teleport stuff," said Jimmy.

"Cool," said Emma. "Is there anyone else?"

"Nope we're all here," replied Chris.

"Well Emma, now that you know all of us, I think it's time we all know you," said Martin.

"Ok. I'm a musician. I love to listen and play music. I also love animals and I do my best to help them whenever I can. I'm 13 years old, and I'm going to be a freshman this school year. That's all there is to know about me," said Emma.

"You're a musician? What instrument do you play?" asked Aviva.

"Flute," replied Emma.

"Emma, we forgot to ask you this, but did you're parents come with you?" asked Chris.

Emma's heart nearly stopped when Chris asked this question. Every time someone asks her this question, she tries not to cry.

Emma bit her bottom lip. "They're-" A man with a gun flashed into her mind. He held the gun in front of her mom and dad. He pulled the trigger. She could still hear the gun shots.

The crew knew something was wrong because she didn't finish her sentence. Emma tried again. "They're-"

The main computer started to beep.

Talk about being saved by the beep, thought Emma.

Koki went over to the computer and said, "Oh no!"

"What?" asked everyone.

"It's Zach and he's up to no good!"
